

True North Gear Women's Brush Shirt

Wildland NFPA 1977 Certified Clothing

Description

Exclusively designed to solve the challenges women in the wildland fire community face with PPE fit. Designed for women, by women, this shirt is thoughtfully constructed to help deliver comfort and correct fit without sacrificing performance and other useful features.

Features and Benefits

- Inherent flame resistance
- NFPA 1977 certified garment
- High temperature rated button fasteners
- This shirt blends trusted materials with innovative features
- Sized to help women work more comfortably without having to size up to accommodate curves. We added one full size in the hips, a little extra room in the chest, as well as waist darts for shaping. The waist curve also hits at a comfortable height and does not restrain mobility.
- Hook and Loop cuff closures that can be tightened for even the smallest wrists to effectively keep out dirt and embers.
- After hearing that the chest pockets are uncomfortable for many women, we replaced them with two lower pockets. The pockets are strategically placed between the pack waist-belt and pack harness to maximize functionality and comfort, and feature hook and loop closures.
- Convenient sleeve pocket with a pen slot
- Innovative adjustable collar that can be worn up and securely tightened, or folded down and secured.

Applications

Firefighters, emergency services, welders / boilermakers, and personnel that require high thermal protection.
